

BioNautilus joins France Biotech

BioNautilus is pleased to join France Biotech, healthtech entrepreneurs bringing together 450 companies.

“As facilitator of the health innovation ecosystem, France Biotech contributes to meeting the challenges of the healthtech sector and to proposing concrete solutions in terms of competitiveness and attractiveness”.

BioNautilus Consulting is an independent consulting firm specializing in the design, development, and manufacture (CDMO) of complex medical diagnostic instruments, as well as the sourcing of critical raw materials for clinical laboratory tests, particularly in molecular biology and genomic technologies.

Philippe Grandjean, founder, and president of BioNautilus also acts as an expert in Business Development & M&A projects in these fields.

More information, please contact Philippe Grandjean
philippe.grandjean@bionautilus.com

